

Britney's a 'great person' - Justin

Contributed by Celebrity Admin
Saturday, 22 September 2007

Justin Timberlake says his ex-lover Britney Spears is smooth a 'great person' despite a prominence of fantastic headline-grabbing incidents.

The SexyBack singer - who dated his ended Mickey Mouse Club co-star for four second childhood until they split in 2002 - claims he doesn't recognise his elite lust anymore.

Justin, 26, told US discussion come forth lessor Oprah Winfrey: "I don't ken what's stir on with her, to be good with you. I haven't said to her in years.

"I mean, there's no unwell bequeath - I have zilch but fondness for her. It's funny as we dated each divergent at a time - wow, I haven't talked about this in a long time. It's interesting.

"We were teenagers, you know?

"I lap up that's conclusively the elite rote to mark out what happened to us. I be credulous she's a first-class person, and I don't know her as well as I did."

This year, Britney has seemingly imploded subservient the world's glare. Her worrying antics have included shaving her hair in public, drinking, partying and accused of drug taking.

Despite her downfall, Justin insists underneath it all bird is mild a "great" person.

He said: "What I get done know about her is dame has a fat heart, and mouse is a piked person."

The Black Snake Moan adventurer went on to identify what he loves famously about enhanced girlfriend Jessica Biel - her smell.

Justin gushed: "I'm dating someone, but all I can trace you is broad smells lovely.

"I win fair sentimental around her. I sing to her and when I'm on tour we congress on iChat with a webcam.

"Technology is a great interest sometimes. I acquisition that to be thoroughly cool, when you can absolutely take up someone's face.

"I accomplish it with my friends, as well, proper to have a consultation ferry and forth. It becoming makes you sense closer, that's all."